

Editorial Note

Dear Readers,

It is with great pleasure that we present the August 2025 edition of The Indonesian Journal of Development Planning. As a platform dedicated to bridging research and policy in support of Indonesia's development planning, the journal seeks to foster rigorous analysis, critical reflection, and strategic insights that can inform evidence-based policymaking.

The articles featured in this issue cover a wide range of themes, from urban development and tourism, housing and demographic dynamics, macroeconomic stability, and labor market policy, to innovations in governance and community-based tourism management. Specifically, this edition includes the following contributions:

- Enhancing Community Resilience in Padang's Coastal Slums through the Disaster Imagination Game (DIG)
- Identifying the Leading City for Urban Development Through Nature-Based and Cultural Tourism: A Comparative Study Between Padang and Bukittinggi Based on the Tourism Area Life Cycle (TALC) Approach
- Housing Needs and Population Growth Dynamics in Campaka Sub-district, Purwakarta, Indonesia: An Industrialization Perspective
- Volatility Spillover Effect of Macroeconomic Indicators on Inflation: A BEKK-GARCH Approach
- Active Labor Market Policy in Indonesia: Challenges of the Pre-Employment Card, Wage Subsidy, and Job Loss Insurance Programs
- Policy Design for Electronic Business License in Cimahi City
- Tourism Village Management Scenario Based on Stakeholder Dynamics
- Dynamic Model Analysis of Kartini Beach Development Strategy Using Causal Loop Diagram

We extend our deepest appreciation to the authors for their valuable scholarly contributions and to our readers for their continued engagement. We hope that this edition will enrich academic and policy discourse while serving as a relevant reference for planners, policymakers, researchers, and the broader academic community committed to Indonesia's development.

Sincerely,

Hanan Nugroho
